Title: Academic Senate Collection

Extent: 25.1 cubic feet

Abstract:

This collection chronicles Indiana University South Bend's Academic Senate. The Academic Senate is the representative body for IU South Bend's faculty. It has several committees, most of which include elected members, as well as some committees to which members are appointed by the Senate's Executive Committee. The Senate has been the governing body for IU South Bend's faculty since the mid 1960s.

Scope and Content Note:

This collection is organized chronologically, then alphabetically within each file folder. It covers the early development of the Academic Senate beginning in the mid-1960's when the IU South Bend campus was becoming a more formalized entity and growing rapidly, up to the present. The collection shows both the growth of the campus as well as the growth of the Senate in many more committees and functions to answer the campus' and faculty's needs. Materials of special note include the first constitution developed by the Academic Senate, committee lists with member rosters for every year since the Academic Senate's inception, and meeting minutes, correspondences and additional materials of various committees including. The Committees represented in the collection are Executive Committee, Promotion Tenure and Reappointment Committee, and the general Academic Senate Committees.

Some committees of the Academic Senate have changed names and the first year in which the committee's name was changed is noted in parenthesis next to the title of the file folder on the inventory list. For example: the Library Committee became the Library Affairs Committee in 1963, and the Committee on Committees became the Executive Committee in 1965.

The contents of boxes two and three are in audiocassette format and will require a cassette player to access their contents. Additionally, there is a speech by Indiana University President Ryan that is on a reel to reel film format.

Box 43 is restricted to public access, and prior consent must be obtained to review its contents.
