Title: IU South Bend: Civil Rights Student Association Collection

Extent: 1.2 cubic feet

Abstract: The Civil Rights Student Association (CRSA) was founded by Indiana University South Bend students in order to record, preserve, and celebrate the struggles and achievements of citizens committed to social justice. The CRSA uses local and national civil rights history to promote social justice and attempt to improve race relations. The organizations stated goal is to create programs and activities that promote diversity and equality for the students at IU South Bend, and the greater society, while encouraging and creating opportunities for student involvement on the IU South Bend campus and surrounding communities.

Scope and Content Note: This collection documents the Civil Rights Student Association from its genesis in the fall of 2011 until the present. Included in the collection are the Association's Constitution and an essay by founding member, IU South Bend student Jason Moreno. Also included are the Association's agendas and minutes from its meetings as well as flyers and announcements for the various activities the group supports. Among these activities have been programs and campaigns dealing with anti-bullying and anti-child abuse.
